

MISSION

To foster the creation of inclusive national and international security policy and practice. Its mandate is to be a 'knowledge broker on gender and diversity', by fostering links between experts on gender-related issues in the fields of security sector reform, inclusive institutions, land mines and small arms and light weapons, and armed violence and national and international policy makers, researchers, and activists.

ACTIVITIES

- Gender advisory roles for colleagues and partners
- Internal staff presentations and debates
- Public discussions and debates
- Staff development opportunities
- Keynote speaking events
- Networking events

HUB OF EXPERTISE

The Maison de la Paix (MdP) is home to some of the world's leading expertise on questions of gender, peace and security. Characterised as a place for meeting, reflection and action, the MdP offers a fertile environment for exchange and creation of knowledge on gender and diversity related to the work of the organisations it houses.

The G&D Hub aims to ensure the MdP becomes a centre of excellence for the promotion of inclusive security policy and practice, and a leading source of expertise on gender and diversity issues relating to peace and security.

OUTCOMES

- Gender and diversity are mainstreamed in the peace and security sector leading to more sustainable developmental outcomes.
- Gender and diversity synergies between the organisations are strengthened and continuously fostered.
- The G&D Hub serves as a forum for the dissemination of gender-related knowledge and best practice both among the organisations and their partners.
- Increased participation of under-represented groups in organisations' activities.
