

Are you a mid- or high-level official from government in between missions, preparing for a new position, or on sabbatical? Are you interested in reflecting on previous experiences, discovering new ideas and preparing for upcoming challenges?

If yes, then you may be the ideal candidate for a Government Fellowship at the Geneva Centre for Security Policy (GCSP).

➔ Key benefits for you

The fellowship will enable you to:

- Take part in a 2-6 month residency at the GCSP, with accommodation provided and covered (for Foundation Council members);
- Build strong relations with like-minded officials from different domains;
- Join a vibrant and dynamic network, representing a rich source of theoretical expertise and practical experience;
- Have access to GCSP experts, staff and course participants, as well as professional development opportunities;
- Gain a better understanding of the complexity of today's global environment and national and international responses to current challenges.

GCSP

The Geneva Centre for Security Policy is an international foundation with 51 member states from across the globe that provides forward-thinking and innovative solutions for leaders and policymakers concerned with international affairs and security in today's complex, globalised world.

In the heart of "International Geneva"

Hosting 34 international organisations, 276 non-governmental organisations, 255 diplomatic missions, representations and delegations, Geneva represents one of the world's richest networks in international affairs.

Maison de la paix

GCSP is housed at the Maison de la paix: a place where people meet on a range of occasions, reflect on timely issues related to peace, security and development, and act to make positive contributions on various levels.

Contribute to the work of a foundation dedicated to promoting peace around the world

As a Government Fellow, you will contribute to the GCSP's aim of promoting peace, security and stability through executive education, applied policy research and dialogue.
