

GLOBAL FELLOWSHIP INITIATIVE: YOUNG LEADERS IN FOREIGN AND SECURITY POLICY

If you are a young professional with at least 2 years of professional experience after graduation and outstanding merit in your field of expertise, you can benefit from professional development opportunities through the Young Leaders in Foreign and Security Policy Fellowship at the Geneva Centre for Security Policy (GCSP).

You will have the opportunity to contribute to various GCSP activities aligned to your skill set, while learning in an inspiring multidisciplinary and multicultural environment.

➔ Key benefits for you

As a Young Leader, you will be able to:

- Take part in a 3 month residency at the GCSP; a stipend is provided;
- Gain practical experience by taking on different projects for the GCSP;
- Build strong relations with like-minded professionals;
- Have access to GCSP experts, staff, and course participants;
- Explore diverse opportunities in the heart of international Geneva, host to 34 international organisations, 250 NGOs and 256 diplomatic missions, representations and delegations.

GCSP

The Geneva Centre for Security Policy is an international foundation with 51 member states from across the globe that provides forward-thinking and innovative solutions for leaders and policymakers concerned with international affairs and security in today's complex, globalised world.

In the heart of "International Geneva"

Hosting 34 international organisations, 276 non-governmental organisations, 255 diplomatic missions, representations and delegations, Geneva represents one of the world's richest networks in international affairs.

Maison de la paix

GCSP is housed at the Maison de la paix: a place where people meet on a range of occasions, reflect on timely issues related to peace, security and development, and act to make positive contributions on various levels.

Contribute to the work of a foundation dedicated to promoting peace around the world

As a Young Leader in Foreign and Security Policy, you will contribute to the GCSP's aim of promoting peace, security and stability through executive education, applied policy research and dialogue.

Apply

The programme is open to holders of a valid Swiss work permit or EU citizens. If you are interested in this position, and wish to apply please send a CV (maximum 2 pages) and a letter of motivation. The application deadline is 30 September 2017.
